THE SHAKKE RIVER SCENE OF BATTLE

Heavy Cannonading is Heard Today.

Port Arthur Can Hold Out Until March, It is Reported.

NO DEFINITE NEWS TODAY

St. Petersburg, Nov. 19.—A telegram from Mukden says it is believed there that an important battle has begun on Shakké river. The echoes of a terrific cannonading, the dispatch says, are heard at Mukden.

Can Hold Out Till March.

London, Nov. 19.—The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent says that Stoessel's report expresses a firm conviction that he will be able to hold out at Port Arthur until the Baltic fleet arrives in March, on the condition that he is supplied with munitions and stores. The government, the correspondent adds, has instructed its agents abroad to supply Stoessel's requirements at any cost.

Handits Join Japs.

Hankow, Nov. 19.—A report is circulated here that three thousand Chinese handits under Japanese officers are moving toward the railway communications below Tie pass.

Heavy Firing.

Mukden, Nov. 19.—On the morning of Nov. 17, after a long silence, the distant roar of cannon was heard, but where the fighting occurred is not yet known. There is no assurance as yet that it means that a general fight is beginning.

The Red Cross is making extensive preparations for the transportation of wounded from the field of battle.

Probably Another Fake.

Rome, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to the newspaper Italia Militare from St. Petersburg, says that the czar has telegraphed Gen. Karapetkin, commanding the forces in Manchuria, directing him to ask Field Marshal Oyama, commander-in-chief, of the Japanese forces, to facilitate the passage of a Russian envoy to Port Arthur, to initiate negotiations for the capitulation of the port.

Hurt in Runaway.

Jack Adcock, a well-known resident of the Lang school house vicinity of the county, was painfully hurt yesterday near Landon. His horse became frightened at a line man on a pole and Mr. Adcock was thrown out and a hole torn in one leg, besides receiving several bruises. The runaway struck Deputy Sheriff Irvin Potter's vehicle a short distance up the road, but did little damage. Deputy Potter carried the injured man to the home of Clay Hines nearby, where medical attention was secured.

Mrs. Maybrick Denies.

New York, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Maybrick has sent out the following: "To the Associated Press—Will you kindly do me the great favor to most emphatically contradict any and all statements to the effect that I intend to make a public appearance on the stage or the lecture platform. Permit me to add that in no instance has there been the slightest ground for such a report. Very truly yours, 'FLORENCE E. MAYBRICK.'"

DELEGATES ARRIVE FROM HUNTINGTON

The Biggest Convention Ever Held by Association.

Calro Happy Over Landing Next Meeting—Evansville Dam to be Built.

DAM NEAR HERE NEXT YEAR

The delegates to the Ohio Valley Improvement association returned from the annual convention at Huntington, W. Va., this morning. The Cairo delegates, with the exception of some who stopped at Louisville, came with them, and spent several hours in the city this morning, leaving for home at 9:30. They are delighted with the trip, and at their success in getting the convention for next year.

The convention this year was one of the most successful in the history of the association. Many influential men are now interested in the work who never took any interest in it before.

It was decided to ask for a complete survey of the Ohio river. This will require two years, unless the corps of engineers is increased to facilitate work. Congress, it is understood, has already been advised to make such an increase, so this portion of the association's recommendation will probably have no operation.

It will be asked that congress make an appropriation for a dam below Evansville next year in advance of the general survey. It is believed that this will carry, and it was decided on after it was agreed that next year a fight would be made for one below Paducah, about Ogden's Landing, or possibly further down. The Paducah crowd acquiesced in this on the above conditions, and next year it is probable the work of building a dam below Paducah will be started.

It seems to be generally realized that Ohio river improvements are necessary, especially since the Panama canal was begun.

The delegates all report that the hospitality they received could not be improved upon. Everyone tried to outdo everyone else in making the visitors at home.

Thursday afternoon the association went to Catlettsburg, Ky., where a new lock was opened at the mouth of the Big Sandy. There were speeches, the booming of cannon, and a banquet began at 6:30 and lasted until 10 p. m.

Cairo landed the convention for next year, and Paducah helped her do it. It was a jolly crowd that reached here today, and the Cairo delegates seem to appreciate the influence of Paducah. We like Cairo, and Cairo likes us. During the baseball season this may be different, but this is not the baseball season.

VICIOUS ATTACK ON CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Lively Scenes in the Budapest Lower House.

Dutch Farmers Murdered as a Result of a Hottentot Uprising.

EDISON TO HAVE NEW COMPANY

Hudspet, Nov. 19.—The lower house resumed its sitting yesterday afternoon. Count Apponyi, leader of the opposition, declared that the sitting was illegal and that his party was there under protest merely to exercise control. The session lasted until 10 at night, with evidences of rising temper.

Deputy Itakos handed the president a paper demanding that the sitting be closed and on refusal of the president to accept the paper Itakos threatened him with a pair of pistols.

Many members hurried to Perexel's assistance. Seats, books and ink pots were hurled at Perexel and insulting epithets were freely employed. The opposing parties were badly prevented from indulging in fistuffs.

Finally the president read the royal rescript proroguing the house and the sitting closed with scenes of the wildest excitement.

Hottentot Uprising.

Cape Town, Nov. 19.—A dispatch from Uplington, on the Orange river, says two women who have arrived there give details of a Hottentot rising in German territory. Their husbands and a number of other Dutch farmers were brutally murdered, but twenty-three women and children escaped and reached Belfontein in destitute circumstances.

A Big Company.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—It is stated in financial circles that a great electrical company is about to be established under the auspices of the Deutsch bank, T. A. Edison and the Bergmann Electrical works of Berlin.

According to one version the new company will be located in the United States.

THE RETURNS

WILL BE CANVASSED ON NOVEMBER 28.

Some of the Mistakes Made by Voters at Last Election.

Frankfort, Nov. 19.—Returns have been officially made to the secretary of state by county commissions of forty counties. Chairman J. Morgan Chinn, of the state commission, has called a meeting of that body for November 28 next, with the understanding that if all returns are in before that date the commission may get together at an earlier date.

Judging from the returns already received, the people's party will not have sufficient vote, as its leaders predicted it would, to get on the ballot next year without filing a petition. It has averaged so far less than twenty-five votes to the county. The prohibitionists will make a showing of nearly 8,000 votes in the state, and it also must continue to secure a place for its device on the ballot by getting up a petition of voters. That the voters of the state are yet to be educated as to how to vote has been demonstrated by the returns coming in. In one county alone (Hopkins) there were 416 democrats who voted for the first elector alone, instead of voting under the rooster, and in the same county 323 republicans voted only for the first elector of that party. In Eastern Kentucky, in Lee, Estill and other counties, there were several hundred voters who voted only for the two electors from the state at large and for the elector for their congressional district, instead of voting for all the electors of their party.

Dr. W. O. Bailey, of Louisville,

Ky., is at the Palmer House. He came on business last night.

FOURTEEN DEAD IN CANADIAN MINE

Explosion of Gas Causes the Disaster.

THREE DROWN IN LAKE

St. Paul, Nov. 19.—A Fernie, B. C., dispatch to the Pioneer Press, says fourteen miners were killed at the Carbondale mines near Morrissey this afternoon as a result of a terrific explosion of gas.

Many Presents.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Before leaving the city yesterday Prince Fushimi sent to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Hay, as personal gifts from the mikado, ten wood chests mounted in solid silver, each containing priceless silks, embroideries, fans, carvings and other articles of Japanese workmanship.

Three Men Drowned.

Eagle River, Wis., Nov. 19.—Horace Hent, a hotel keeper, Frederick Anderson, and an unknown eastern tourist, were drowned in an attempt to cross Teaderfoot lake in a canoe through a heavy sea.

Two Found Murdered.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19.—John Henley, a fisherman, and wife were found murdered in their cabin at Horn lake. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive.

STATUE UNVEILED

GREAT CEREMONY AT WASHINGTON THIS MORNING.

Speeches Made by Many Notables, Including President Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Amid the booming of cannon, the playing of the German National air, and cheers a great throng gathered on the grounds of the war college, and the statue of Frederick, the Great, the gift of the emperor of Germany to the people of the United States, was unveiled this afternoon by the Baroness Sperk Von Sternberg, the handsome American wife of the German ambassador.

Following the unveiling, speeches were made by Lieut. Gen. Von Lowenfeld, Baron Von Sternburg, President Roosevelt, Lieut. Gen. Chinn, and Charlemagne Teyler, the U. S. ambassador to Germany.

MANY RIOTS

MARK THE FURNITURE DRIVERS STRIKE.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The strike of furniture wagon drivers is marked by hourly street riots, and the disturbances keep the police constantly busy. A conference between leaders of both sides will be held this afternoon to bring about an armistice.

A general strike may be ordered next week in all the clothing manufacturing establishments of Chicago. The employees are asking for increase in wages. The men and employers are both determined, and a long strike is predicted.

OFFICIAL FIGURES

May Change the Result in Franklin County.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 19.—The official count shows that J. W. Bridges was nominated for judge in the Franklin county democratic primary election, instead of Mason H. Lucas, as first reported. The tabulation shows that Frank Johnson has won the nomination for representative over Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., by four votes. Col. Taylor's representatives claim that a mistake of eight votes has been made in one precinct which would give him the nomination by four votes. The committee will settle the dispute today.

ALL HOUSES WILL BE FORCED TO CONNECT

Important Measure Comes up in Aldermanic Board.

People in the Sewer District Must Connect With the Sewerage.

SAFE PASSAGE IS PREDICTED

Alderman G. R. Davis will at the regular meeting of the board of aldermen next Thursday night take a step that will be hailed with delight by all public spirited citizens of Paducah. He will introduce an ordinance to compel every owner of property in the sewer district to connect his or her property with the sanitary sewerage, and making it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine every day, to maintain above-ground closets.

The sanitary sewerage in the first district has been completed six or seven years, and only about one-third of the property owners in the district have connected their property with it, which is an imposition on the people who have, and a menace to public health as well.

The sewerage system was started under a republican council and when completed a democratic council had succeeded to office. The excuse then given for not requiring people to connect with it, was that the people had not sufficiently recovered from paying for the sewerage itself. The real reason was that the old fogies did not know the value of sewerage, and did not want the people to connect with it, and that some of the members owned a lot of little gun-barrel houses they didn't want to have to connect up, because it would cost them something.

In the course of years, when popular demand was again for sewerage connection, members of the board urged that such a law cannot be passed, as it would compel people "to patronize a corporation."—the water company—but Alderman Davis considers this the silly rot it is, and will be able to show that Memphis, and many other cities that have water companies owned by private companies, have successfully enforced sewerage connection.

In addition; it will be shown that people do not have to patronize the water company in order to secure sewerage connections. They can flush the pipes with buckets of water if they prefer this primitive mode of flushing the pipes. The ordinance will simply compel them to connect with the sanitary sewerage, and they can adopt such methods as they deem best and cheapest for flushing the pipes.

The ordinance will also make it a punishable offense to have a surface closet. All must be connected with the sewerage.

It is believed that the new ordinance will be passed, if it is not by the present board, it will be after the new members get in. With their vote, which is half of the general council, there is already assurance enough from the present members to guarantee the passage of the ordinance later if it falls now. Alderman Davis is one of the hold-over members, and will be in the board after the first of the year, when the new members take their seats. His advocacy of such an ordinance will go a long way towards making it popular and successful.

KING OF GREECE

Is Notified That He Must Be Good.

Constantinople, Nov. 19.—It is learned that the Italian government has notified Prince George, of Greece, that if he does not desist in agitating for the union of Crete and Greece it will initiate a movement to compel him to resign his high commissioner-ship of Greece.

ASPHALT TRUST MAY BID IN PADUCAH

Representatives Here Now Looking Over the Town.

A Small Contract to be Let Monday—Much Work for Next Year.

BOARD OF WORKS TO MEET

The prospects are that the "asphalt trust" will attempt to do business in Paducah. Mr. M. A. Fanning of Cleveland Ohio, representing the Barber Asphalt company, is now at the Palmer House, and his object is to look over the city and ascertain what the prospects are for his company to bid on work to be done here next year.

A large proportion of the $150,000 to be spent for street improvements is yet in the treasury to be spent next year, and there ought to be some lively competition between the bitulithic and asphalt people.

Monday the board of public works is to open bids for the reconstruction of Second street from Broadway to Washington, and it is possible the asphalt people will bid on this, but not certain.

Mr. Fanning is accompanied by Dr. W. O. Bailey, of Louisville, who was at one time a resident of Paducah and married Mrs. Standiford, before her marriage Miss Lorena Scott, of Paducah.

The outlook for asphalt in Paducah, however, does not seem to be very bright, as several members of the board say that the bitulithic compound is pronounced by officials in many cities that have used both, to be superior to asphalt, and cheaper.

Mr. Fanning is a Louisville boy, and is quite well known in Paducah society. His company will probably make an effort to get part of the work to be done here next year, but no definite statement has thus far been made. No asphalt company has ever yet bid on work in Paducah.

The board of public works will probably hold a called meeting this evening. No meeting was held Wednesday on account of the absence of members. Mr. S. A. Fowler returned this morning, and the deferred business will probably be taken up this evening.

A Newspaper Frenk.

Mexico, Mo., Nov. 19.—The spectacle of the Mexican Evening Ledger being edited for one day by republicans is a possibility, due to a promise made before the election.

Editor White was discussing the political situation with Postmaster George H. Kunkel who claimed some chance for the republican party carrying Missouri. The editor promised Mr. Kunkel to allow the postoffice force in this city to edit the Ledger for one day in the event the postmaster's prediction came true.

When seen today Mr. White said that he would keep his promise, but that he reserved the selection of the day for the appearance of the republican edition of the Ledger.

More Railroad Changes.

Additional information relative to the proposed changes in the schedule of the I. C., Louisville division, shows that the Cairo train which leaves here at 7:30 at night will hereafter leave at 7 o'clock, after the new schedule goes into effect. The Central City accommodation train will leave Central City one hour earlier. It now leaves about 3:30 a. m.

WEEKS NEWS IN BUSINESS WORLD

Bank clearings this week, $677,875. Same week last year, $51,895. Increase, $625,980. The bank clearings show a good increase over the same period last year. Wholesale trade reports are of a more favorable trade. In every line the volume of business is larger than last year.

Holiday trade is very active, and local houses have lots of unfilled orders on their books.

Retail trade is very active and showing good increases over last year. One of the prominent furniture dealers reports his business last month and this showing 50 per cent. increase.

A TRAGIC CAREER ENDS IN DEATH

Mayfield Woman Dies From a Fall.

She Was Formerly a Beautiful Girl But Became an Opiate Fiend.

MANY THINK SHE SUICIDED

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 19.—Ada Cathron, a woman 29 years, is dead at the home of her mother on east South street. She fell down the steps a week or ten days ago, on the east side of the square, and was so badly hurt that she never recovered.

The story of this young woman is rather a sad one. Not ninety years ago, she lived with her father and mother in Paragould, Ark. Her father was a well-to-do, and highly respected gentleman, but together with his property, he has long passed away. When this girl first grew to womanhood, she was beautiful, intelligent and rather cultured. She was engaged to be married to one of Arkansas' prominent young men, but before the time came for the consummation of the marriage, the young man died, and she became broken hearted. Later on, she was married to another man, but they did not live together long, before he died.

She came with her mother to this place only a few years ago, where she became addicted to the use of opiate and strong drinks. Her mother, who is a good woman, did everything possible to save her daughter, but her efforts proved futile. She had resided here nine years.

Many think her recent fall was an attempt at suicide, as she had twice attempted it before. Once she took nearly a whole bottle of morphine, but was pumped out in time. It was said she was the hardest woman in Graves county to kill, on account of her attempts at suicide.

SHOT IN FACE

BLANDVILLE NEGRO RADLY INJURED.

Will Probably Recover, But One of His Eyes Was Put Out by the Shot.

Callb Lovelace shot Dick Corbett with a shotgun at Blandville, Ballard county, yesterday, five or six shot striking Corbett in the head and face, putting out one eye, but not dangerously wounding him. The trouble between them dates back some time, but the immediate cause of the shooting seems to have been that Corbett had a hog to die with the cholera, and having a grudge against Lovelace, put the dead hog in Lovelace's field with his healthy ones.

Lovelace met him afterwards and gave him a thrashing, since which time they have both gone "prepared," ending in the shooting the next time they met. Both are colored and live near Blandville. Lovelace surrendered after the shooting.

The automatic gate at Eleventh and Norton streets was torn down yesterday afternoon by one of the Baker, Eccles & Co. rigs, driven by E. J. LaGore, a salesman. No one was hurt, and the gates have been repaired.

Theatrical Notes

Next Week's Attractions.
Monday—Adelaide Thurston.
Tuesday—The Jeffersons.
Wednesday—Uncle Josh Perkins.
Thanksgiving (Matinee) "Ghosts."
Thanksgiving (Night) "Ghosts."
Saturday—Harry Heresford.
Next week Mr. English offers his patrons some most excellent productions and a host of them. Miss Thurston comes again for a third visit and as she has lots of admirers in Paducah, no doubt she will be greeted by a large audience. The Jeffersons in "Old Joe's" ever famous, "The Rivals," promise a pleasing production. "Uncle Josh Perkins," too, will greet some friends of old. "Ghosts," Thanksgiving, matinee and night, one of Ibsen's problem plays, seen here last season should be well received. Harry Heresford Saturday brings a new vehicle in which his Paducah friends are promised "something good." Heresford is always good.

The coming of Adelaide Thurston to The Kentucky Monday night presages an evening of enjoyment for theatregoing. Miss Thurston has always been admirably suited in her plays, the roles of which have fitted her personality and her artistic abilities. Her new play, "Polly Primrose," a comedy drama by Paul Wilstach, is said to be the best play in which this dainty actress has yet been seen. Its scenes transpire in Georgetown, D. C., during the Civil war. The production carried by the company is most complete. All the scenery, furniture, drapery, carpets, bric-a-brac, etc., shown in the play are transported in a special car. Electric calciums are also carried to produce some pretty lighting effects in the company are Brinsley Shaw, Frederic Kerby, James R. McCann, Willis Baker, Charles Horn, Franklin Jones, James M. Watson, Helen Travers, Lizzie Kendall, Pearl Hammond and others that make up a fine cast of players.

"The Rivals," Sheridan's brilliant comedy to be presented here by the Jeffersons at The Kentucky, Tuesday night, will be handsomely mounted by exquisite costumes. Notable among them is Miss Floilett Paget's costume which will be a silver brocade made in the period of the eighteenth century, when Sheridan's play was written, with petticoat of maize satin trimmed with flowers and pearls. A large hat with white plumes and a cane then used by all gentlewomen completes this ings of the present season.

The production for "Polly Primrose," the new play in which dainty little Adelaide Thurston will be seen here requires a special 60 ft. baggage car to transport it. Every bit of scenery, and the furniture, carpets, rugs, draperies and bric-a-brac, shown in the production will be brought here by the company.

From the present outlook, the name of Jefferson will live on in the history of the stage. Tuesday night the theatre-going public of Paducah will see the two worthy sons of the "Dean of the American stage," Joseph Jefferson, Joseph Jefferson, Jr. and William W. Jefferson. They will costume with which a Sir Joshua Reynolds wig is worn, powder and patches. She also wears a second costume which is a rich vermillion brocade, took the prize at the Brussels exhibition; a pink brocade petticoat and stomacher is worn with this which is trimmed with fine lace and brilliants.

"Uncle Josh Perkins" with an original plot, plenty of thrilling dramatic action, a pleasing injection of lovely comedy and a sprinkling of high class musical and dancing specialties will be the attraction at The Kentucky Wednesday evening. In addition to mounting each and every act with a wealth of new scenery, Messrs. Frazee & Hay have engaged a most acceptable acting company. Several of this number being local favorites. The production is perfect and complete in every respect and should prove one of the best offerings of the season.

present "The Rivals," which has been selected by their father as a play suitable for them to star in. The presentation will be given by a carefully selected company to support these worthy young gentlemen. Joseph, Jr., will be the Sir Lucius O'Trigger, and William W. "Fighting" Bob Acres.

An exceptionally good company has been placed on the road by Manager Coleman of the American theatre, New York, to support Harry Heresford in the merry farce, "Our New Man," from the pen of Mr. Charles T. Vincent. It may be said that no comedy on the stage today has been more productive of laughter than this one, and it does not seem possible that any other player could be found capable of infusing more naturalness into the part of the unsophisticated, awkward, lovable professor of physiognomy than does this young actor, who has been said to be versatile, inventive and clear in his "business," spontaneous and great in his acting and artistic in his treatment of details and withal so thoroughly convincing and interesting that he commands the attention at all times, playing upon the human soul, while he appeals to the intellect. Mr. Heresford comes to The Kentucky next Saturday matinee and night.

In the history of the stage there has been no dramatist who holds the mirror up to nature so clearly as Ibsen, the Norwegian whose plays since the early 80's have been gradually taking a strong hold on our intellectual theatre-goers. Ibsen looks to life itself instead of conventions for his dramatic material. His pictures frame living, breathing men and women of our every day existence. He knows that character is the root of all drama and it is to the lifelike, convincing, consistent portrayal of character that he devotes his powers. The average theatre-goer shuns Ibsen because he thinks his plays too daring, too near the actual. When, however, he does condescend to witness one, the artistic excellence of the work, the clean-cut, life-like pictures ure, the compelling attention obtained by the methods employed by Ibsen, usually makes a convert of the scoffers and adds one more to this ever-increasing clientele. In "Ghosts," the most widely discussed of Ibsen's dramas, the master has achieved his greatest success. As played by Clara Fogel and his company it is looked upon as one of the strongest and most convincing of dramas, even rivalling that of Shakespeare, Roscni, Hulwer, Lytton, etc. The production of "Ghosts" will be at The Kentucky Thanksgiving Day for matinee and night.

CURED CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. W. R. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Small Place.

An old stable back of Cal John Sinnott's residence at Ninth and Monroe streets caught fire about midnight last night and was destroyed. The fire departments were called out but the stable was about gone when the alarm was turned in. The loss will amount to very little. Some wood alcohol used in the finishing room of the Rex Manufacturing plant on the South Side, caught fire about 6 o'clock last evening, but was extinguished before much damage had been done.

NEURALGIA PAINS.

Rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yield to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body, and effect some wonderful cures. 25c, 50c, $1.00. The Medicine Mother Used.

Wine of Cardui has stood the test of time. It has cured the grandmothers, mothers, sisters and daughters of two generations. It cured women seventy-five years ago. It is curing women today of such troubles as disordered periods, bearing down pain, inflammation of the parts, nervousness and weaknesses of all kinds peculiar to the sex.

Wine of Cardui smooths the path of girlhood, preventing severe trouble at the coming of womanhood, by correctly establishing the function so necessary to womanly health. As no emmenagogue it is the support of a woman through life, preparing her for the ordeal of childbirth and ensuring her a quick recovery of her strength which is necessary to motherhood. Wine of Cardui taken periodically will dispel attacks of weakness, and at the time when her health is renewed at the change of life it will ensure a healthy old age.

Wine of Cardui

This great tonic for women is within the reach of every sufferer. There is no expense of a specialist attached to the treatment. Secure a dollar bottle from your druggist today and you can get the same grateful relief that over 1,500,000 other suffering women have secured. Your druggist will sell you the same medicine that has been curing grandmothers, mothers, sisters and daughters for seventy-five years.

Here are a few of the 1,500,000 cured women who owe health and in some instances life itself to Wine of Cardui. Reading this list should induce every sufferer to take Wine of Cardui.

CAROLINE STRAUSS

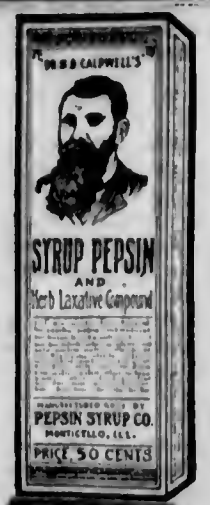

PEPSIN SYRUP COMPANY,
Monticello, Ill.

GENTLEMEN:—For several years I suffered with dyspepsia, heartburn and insomnia, all caused by poor digestion. I was in despair of getting cured when I heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. After taking five bottles I was restored to health. The intense heat of the summer does not prostrate me as formerly, but I have enjoyed every day because my health was good.

I do not wonder at Syrup Pepsin finding such ready sale, as it is certainly worth its weight in gold.

SHE.

Her sleeves are 1930.
And her skirt is '31.
Her tresses in the manner
Of Louis Quinze are done.
Her hat is quite Colonial.
Her brooch is pure antique.
Her belt is 1850.
But when you hear her speak,
What year the maid belongs to
You do not wonder more.
Her dress is many periods,
But her slang is 1934.

Social Features of the Educational Association.

Invitations are out today for the Educational Association Reception to be given on Friday evening, November 25th, from 8 to 12, at the High school auditorium. The first District Educational association will be in session here on Friday and Saturday, the 25th and 26th, and promises to be a session of more than usual interest. The program has been arranged with an eye to the beautiful as well as the useful, and art talks as well as musical numbers will intersperse the discussions of the weighty matters of pedagogy. The social side has also been emphasized in the Friday evening reception which will be a noteworthy occasion, and somewhat of a dress-up affair. The feature of the evening will be an address by the Rev. David C. Wright, rector of Grace Episcopal church, on "The Language of Music." After which, music, refreshments and social pleasure will follow.

Miss Emma Morgan of this city, is the president of the association, the first time that the honor has been given to a woman, and the distinctive charm as well as the success of the occasion is due to her talents and ability.

Weddings.

The marriage of Miss Mae Clover of this city to Mr. John Ross Winters of Bluffton, Ind., took place on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Clover, 521 Clark street. Rev. George O. Bachman of the Cumberland Presbyterian church was the officiating minister. It was a quiet home wedding with only relatives and intimate friends in attendance, and some out-of-town guests. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, Greenville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Allen, and son, Harry Clover, Murphysboro, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Clover, Paris, Tenn.; Miss Myrtle Clover, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. A. N. Williams, and Miss Estelle Haroon, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Lou Winters, Bluffton, Ind.; and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Miller, Mrs. Wilmoth Rook, Miss Mattie Nance, and Lacy Threlkeld, of Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Winters left on Thursday for St. Louis, and will reside in Bluffton.

The marriage of Miss Bonnie Babb and Mr. Martin McKenzie was solemnized Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church by the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen. It was witnessed by a large number of friends of the popular young couple.

The bride wore a pretty gown of champagne voile over green silk with hat to match, and carried bride roses. The attendants were Mr. Don Martin, of Louisville, and Mr. Lote Plumlee, of this city.

After the ceremony, the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred McCreery, entertained the bridal party and a limited number of guests with an elaborate and attractive dinner at her home on Trimble street.

Mr. Will Ripley and Miss Bertha Burton, of this city, were married in Cairo on Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Knox of the Presbyterian church. It was not an elopement but they desired to be married quietly. They were accompanied by Miss Gertrude Hequette and Mr. Frank Black.

Miss Sadie Sullivan and Mr. Arthur Yates were married at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning at the bride's home on South Sixth street, by the Rev. W. P. Hamilton of the Third street Methodist church.

The wedding of Miss Eula May Clarke and Mr. Peter Blachon is announced to take place next Wednesday morning at the home of the bride on South Fourth street. Rev. W. P. Hamilton of the Third street Methodist church will officiate. Both are popular young people of the South Side.

Hanquet to Knights-Templar.

The ladies of the Eastern Star served an elegant banquet to the Paducah Commandery, Knights-Templar, who were in special conclave on Wednesday evening at the Fraternity building. The tables were arranged in the form of a cross and were attractively decorated with palms and flowers. The center-piece was a large pumpkin filled with fruit and chrysanthemums. The menu was an elaborate one covering a number of courses. Clever speeches were made by several of the Sir Knights. It was a most enjoyable occasion. The ladies having the banquet in charge were: Mrs. Ollie Chamblin, Mrs. Lora Johnston, Mrs. Pearl Acker, Mrs. Inez Barbart, Mrs. George Holliday, Mrs. May Frederick and Mrs. Mary Saunders.

The marriage of Miss Mary Isabel Maxwell, of Marion, Ky., to Mr. Arthur Cordan Strachley, of Cincinnati, was celebrated at the bride's home in Marion at 1:30 p. m. on Monday, and was followed by a large afternoon reception at the Maxwell home. The house was charmingly decorated with evergreens and pink chrysanthemums. The bride wore a cream chiffon voile, trimmed with pearl passementerie and lace, and carried orchids. The matron of honor and maid of honor were gowned in pink.

The bride is well-known here and is related to several prominent Paducah families, she is very bright and charming. The groom is a prominent lawyer of Cincinnati. They will reside at 845 Dayton street, Cincinnati.

The wedding of Miss Massran and Mr. Frank Sanders, of the Mayfield road, will take place Tuesday, November 22.

Former Resident Here.

Mr. Lothair Smith, of Louisville, a former resident of Paducah, is here for a brief visit. Mr. Smith was book-keeper for the Paducah Standard several years ago, and went to Louisville to accept a position with the Equitable Life Assurance Society. He rose rapidly until he is now cashier, one of the most important and lucrative positions in the state. He has many friends here who pleasantly remember him and are glad he is able to come down on a visit, his first in several years.

Married in Crittenden.

Miss Marie Aileen Graves, of Dy-cusburg, Crittenden county, and Mr. E. M. Akin, of Evansville, Ind., clerk on the J. B. Richardson, were married at the bride's home at Dy-cusburg Wednesday. The bride is a niece of County Attorney Eugene Graves, of Paducah. The groom formerly resided at Clinton, Tenn.

Luncheon to Visitors.

Mrs. Louis M. Rieke entertained informally at luncheon on Wednesday in compliment to Mrs. Mollie D. Gracey of Oakland, Cal., the guest of Mrs. William Marble. It was a pretty luncheon, perfect in cuisine and appointments, with a charming color-motif of white and pink. Covers were laid for eight.

Pretty Reception to Guest.

Mrs. William Marble received on Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock in honor of her niece and guest Miss Alberta Jones of Oakland, Cal. The rooms were attractively decorated in chrysanthemums, pink and white emphasizing the color-scheme with charming effect.

Mrs. Marble was gracefully assisted in receiving, and introducing

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. It is woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or awaking breathless, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

PERMANENTLY CURES RHEUMATISM

Demorest, Ga., March 1, 1934.
THACHER MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga.
Gentlemen: About two years ago I was taken with rheumatism and suffered horribly for ten weeks. I was advised to try Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I procured two bottles, and in less than two weeks I was entirely cured and have had no return of the disease since. I keep it all the time—would not be without it—and have recommended to a great many others who have received great benefit from its use.

Delightful refreshments were served. A number of guests called during the hours.

Linen Shower to Prospective Bride.

Mrs. L. A. Urbansky of 517 Washington street, gave a linen shower on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 in honor of her sister and guest, Miss Amy Goldsmith, of Louisville, whose engagement to Dr. Steinfeld of this city, has just been announced.

The table was attractively set for twenty and the color-scheme was an effective arrangement of pink and green, lighted by shaded candles in candelabra.

The guests were: Mesdames Henry Handlin Duley, L. Goodman, T. Brown, Albert Gilbert, Cohen, L. M. Cloy, Kahn, John Laugs, W. Edwards, Hugh Edwards, Albert Rosenthal, F. N. Gardner, Baker, M. Simons, Misses Jessie Cloy, Fannie Abrams, Vennie Edwards, Blanche Michael, Jennie Sloan.

The First Lieutenant.

"The First Lieutenant," the light opera to be given on December 8th, by local talent for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless, had the first rehearsal this week, and promises to be very successfully carried out. The cast will consist of almost 100, and will number some popular social and musical favorites, as it will be an event in society that is being eagerly anticipated.

Mr. William Baker, of Chicago, who has the entertainment in charge, presented "Powhatan" and "The Mikado" here several years ago very successfully, and will be equally so with this opera.

Magazine Club.

Miss Julia Scott was the hostess of the Magazine club at her home on Madison street on Thursday afternoon. Quotations were given in opening from Longfellow, and some very entertaining reports from five of the popular magazines followed. Miss Ethel Morrow represented the Booklover's with an article on "The Daughter of Louis XV." Mrs. John Campbell gave from the Bookman an article on "The Associated Press." Miss Mattie Fowler reported the Arena with a character sketch of "Henry Watterson." Miss Minnie Ratcliffe told of "A Trip to Sahara in a Automobile," from The Cosmopolitan; and Mrs. J. C. Flournoy gave an interesting account of "Joke-Myths" in featuring Current Literature. An elaborate and delightful luncheon was served during the afternoon.

Entre Nous Club.

The Entre Nous club were the guests of Miss Monima Hopkins at the home of her aunt, Mrs. James E. English on Fountain avenue, on Wednesday afternoon. Cards were played and the first and second prizes were won by Misses Fannie and Della Coleman. An elaborate five-course luncheon was attractively served at the close of the game. Only the club members were present and these were: Misses Elsie Bagby, Marjorie Bagby, Della and Fannie Coleman, Helen Decker, Lillie May Winstead, Henlah Rogers, Ethel Brooks, May Owen, Robbie Loving, Nell Holland.

Sans Souci Club.

Mrs. Will Minnich entertained the Sans Souci club very delightfully on Thursday afternoon. There were five tables at euchre and the club prize was won by Mrs. John W. Scott. The visitor's prize was captured by Miss Helen Decker. A pretty course-luncheon was served at the close of the game.

The guests were: Mesdames John W. Scott, Allen Ashcraft, Harris Rankin, Charles Kiger, Mark Wor-ton, Harry McIlwain, C. F. James of Evansville; Misses Caroline Sowell, Minnie Terrell, Mattie Terrell, Margaret Park, Clara Park, Hattie Hisey, Clara Thompson, Faith Langstaff, Helen Decker, Marie Cobb, Ethel Brooks, Elizabeth Sinnott, Ada Enders.

Follencela Club.

The Follencela club were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Charles Abbott at her home on North Sixth street on Tuesday afternoon. It was a guessing party and both the first Daily Thought.

"The roots of humanity are so inextricably intertwined, that we must grow together if we grow at all. Every warp and canker tells upon the whole."

The Weather.

Fair and warmer tonight. Sunday fair and colder.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

The waterways convention is over, and has given additional impetus to the work of improving the Ohio river and tributaries. The delegates who returned today are confident that the prospects of accomplishing the object of the Ohio Valley Improvement association are better than ever before, and prominent men who will work hard in the cause have been interested from Pittsburg to Cairo.

The Louisville Herald says on the subject:

"The elections over, Kentucky's enterprising and alert citizenship should, irrespective of party, get together on the Ohio river improvement situation. Kentucky has a frontage on the Ohio nearly as long as that of the large and populous commonwealths of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois combined. To say nothing of smaller streams, Kentucky's affluents into the Ohio are rivers of such availability for navigation as the Cumberland, the Tennessee, the Green, the Kentucky, the Licking and the Big Sandy which lies between West Virginia and Kentucky.

"These rivers have all much more than local importance. The Cumberland and Tennessee drain large sections of Tennessee, the Tennessee making a big bend into Alabama as far south as Guntersville, and receiving tributary waters from both Alabama and Mississippi.

"The building of the Panama canal means that the Ohio is to be one of the world's greatest waterways. Its tributaries will form part of one grand scheme of internal navigation, sure to be eventually without an equal. Our democratic contemporary, the Owensboro Inquirer, acknowledges that the Ohio waterway will, as far as such an improvement can take on political complexion, be a republican work of advancement."

"The iron and steel men of Pittsburg, the manufacturers of Cincinnati and other cities in the republican section of the country are going to plead for the river, and their prayers will be heard. They are already being heard to some extent through the building of dams on the upper Ohio, and they will find that these afford only local advantages and will demand that they be built throughout the length of the river. Then and then only we shall get what we ought to have, the pity of it being that it will come to us, not through what we shall do, but in spite of all we have done and may do. However the improvement of the Ohio river comes, let us take it and be thankful."

"The improvement of the Ohio is part and parcel of the general republican policy of keeping American home market for Americans, and by turning out the best of manufactured goods, under the stimulating influence of protection, capture in time the markets of the world. But as all great national policies, successfully carried out, benefit every and not one section merely of the people, the enlarged and improved Ohio is distinctly American and not partisan in conception and execution. Its benefits will enrich all alike. It is for all the people, the producer and the consumer, the buyer and the seller, the farmer and the mechanic.

"Kentucky should, however, have, as a business proposition, sent a solid republican delegation to congress this year, united in the advocacy of an improved Ohio channel. Failing that, there should have been congressmen elected from the Louisville, the Covington and other river districts with decided influence on the republican side. But even with the small republican representation on its congressional delegation, Kentucky can, through its commercial bodies, make itself felt for the nine-foot channel from Pittsburg to Cairo. Kentucky is more than any one other state interested in the project. Give it, then all the promotion its merits and promise deserve."

SAM TELLS ABOUT IT.

Sam Jones thus condole with the democrats:

"Last Tuesday was a landslide, an avalanche, a hull run and a Waterloo combined. Teddy is in the saddle for four years more (D. V.) and the democrats are afoot, so to speak, but walking is good and much cheaper than riding, though it is not so expeditious.

"After all, and election is but an expression of the choice of the people and the majority in this country rules, although Teddy got about a two-thirds majority. I have met no one who had on mourning or seemed to be in sackcloth and ashes. Ten-cent cotton soothes our sorrow, heals our wounds and drives away our cares. The South is financially and commercially 'in the saddle,' and although we lost politically we are ahead in a thousand ways. Cotton to burn, corn to sell, sorghum and hay to let, debts paid, and money in bank. We have got a heap to shout over. We can thank God and take courage. Georgia and every other southern state has as good a president as Pennsylvania, New York or Michigan."

Poor Editor.

The J. R. editor does not want to intentionally snub anyone or appear indifferent. Within the past ten days his hearing has become fearfully impaired from chronic catarrh and while medical aid has been freely called to our assistance the result has not been satisfactory. We offer this explanation so that no one will take offense should they address us and we fall to reply.—Metropolitan Journal Republican.

THE APPOINTMENTS EXPECTED MONDAY

Conference Now Engaged in Considering Them.

Rev. J. C. Hooks, at One Time a Pastor in Paducah and Expelled, is Restored.

PRAY FOR PRESIDING ELDER

The telegram from the Memphis Conference, in session at Jackson, Tenn., announces that Bishop J. S. Key and his cabinet are down to the real work of appointment making, and it is predicted that few changes will occur. The appointments will be announced on Monday as is usually the custom, probably before noon, or it may be not until later in the afternoon.

The special act of interest yesterday was the vote passed to restore the credentials of the Rev. J. C. Hooks who was expelled from the conference several years ago. Dr. R. H. Mahon, Rev. G. T. Sullivan and other prominent ministers spoke for the deposed minister who had manifested a deep repentance. Mr. Hooks was formerly pastor here.

Prayer was asked for the Rev. J. H. Roberts, of the Paducah district, lying critically ill here, and was led by Rev. E. B. Ramsey, of Memphis, formerly the pastor of Broadway Methodist church here.

There will probably be some transfers from the conference to the Arkansas Conference and to the West, which is calling for men. One of the most prominent ministers, the Rev. W. K. Piner, D. D., of Central church, Memphis, has already transferred to Oklahoma City.

GOOD OFFER

PHYSICIANS WILLING TO DONATE $1,000 FOR HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT.

When the new city hospital is completed the problem of how to equip it will come up. Mayor Yeiser says there are no available funds, and it is likely the city will have a difficult time getting the necessary operating tables, etc. It is understood, however, that the doctors of Paducah have offered to make up $1,000 for a complete equipment of an operating room on condition that they be allowed to use it for their operations, this of course not to interfere in any way with the city's use of the room. The proposition will be submitted to the general council, and it is likely will receive favorable consideration.

NEARING THE END

COL. W. O. P. BRECKINRIDGE CANNOT SURVIVE THE DAY.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 19.—Col. W. O. P. Breckinridge is today being kept alive by the administration of oxygen, but it is not believed can survive the day.

His condition was critical yesterday until evening, when he had a rally, but today it is apparent to all that the end is near. There is general grief in Lexington, where he is universally admired and respected, over his approaching end.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Mr. Charles Holliday is today holding a civil service examination for clerk and carrier in room No. 10 on the third floor of the postoffice. There were about eight applicants to take the examination but only three showed up.

They are Mr. John R. Hawkins, of the I. O. post shop; Mr. R. E. Moore, night haggardman at the local I. O. depot, and Mr. John W. Watts, of the I. O. woodworking shops.

COUNTY TEACHERS PAID.
Today County School Superintendent A. M. Ragsdale is paying out the second payment to county teachers.

The money should have been here last Saturday, but on account of the state treasurer refusing to pay it over to the schools, was delayed.

The money arrived yesterday and amounts to $1,999.60. The teachers were flooding the superintendent's office all the morning.

Mr. Otis McManis has gone to St. Louis to attend the fair.

IN THE COURTS

CIRCUIT COURT.

A judgment for sale was filed in the case of J. W. Fristoe against Susan Ann Burkholder and others.

The demurrer to the defendant's answer in the case of Sam Stone against the City of Paducah, was overruled and the defendant given leave to amend.

At press time the case of S. B. Hughes, trustee, against W. B. McPherson, was being argued.

This is the case being tried by Judge Bush of Hopkinsville, over possession of property at Fourth and Broadway occupied by the defendant.

In the cases of Lem Bell and Frank Covington against Officer William Orr, the plaintiff filed motion for a new trial.

MUST MAKE SETTLEMENT.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot has issued a rule for Dr. H. T. Messig, administrator of the estate of Fred Messig, to appear in court Monday and make a settlement as administrator.

WANTS ONLY $10,000.

Attorney J. M. Worthington filed another suit against the city this morning. The plaintiff is George Wright, who was fined in police court and worked on the streets. He asks for $10,000 damages.

FEDERAL COURT.

Judge Walter Evans and United States Marshall A. D. James will arrive tomorrow from Louisville to hold a session of the federal court here Monday.

POLICE COURT.

The star case in police court today was that against Amanda McGee, alias Shelley, for suffering gaming to be carried on in her home.

Yesterday afternoon the police got a tip that a game was going on and they quietly went in and found a house full of darkies shooting craps and drinking. The woman alleged that she did not set up the game and that she got no "hold out" and the court held her over to the grand jury on the charge of suffering gaming.

The following colored gamblers were fined $20 and costs each for engaging in the game: Grant Peal, Isaac Jacobs, Albert Carter, Ed Holland, Mose Storey, Anderson Trice, and Blank Jackson.

George Shaw and Dock Mitchell, colored, were fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace.

The case against Adolph Clark and Woodson Hanners, colored, for gaming, was continued.

Will Shelton, colored, was fined $1 and costs for being drunk.

Ed Holland, charged with a breach of the peace, was granted a continuance.

Lydia Carroll, white, was held over for grand larceny. Freddie Yopp, a female vendor, claims that she stole $65 from him.

In the breach of the peace case against Rodney Furry and James Canella, the warrant against Furry was laid away and Canella dismissed.

Pete Bruce and Jim Adkins, colored, charged with false swearing, were granted continuances.

Dr. S. B. Caldwell, who has been ill for over a month, is steadily improving, his many friends will be pleased to learn.

Mrs. Albert Reichenbach and daughter, Luella, of Huntington, Ind., arrived today to visit Mrs. H. S. Wells.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Brock's Age is 115 Years.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788.

His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Pe-ru-na."

Born before the United States was formed.
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shod a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Pe-ru-na.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.
Believes Pe-ru-na the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of Melan county, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Pease Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family little is well preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1903. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double-column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1903, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date. This gentleman is an ardent friend of Pe-ru-na, having used it many years.

In speaking of his good health and long life, Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so."

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 115 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States."

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the little ailments which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and diarrhoea."

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy Pe-ru-na, I have found it to be the best, if not the only, reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy."

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine."

"When epidemics of grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease."

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Pe-ru-na was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Pe-ru-na for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a later letter dated January 31, 1904, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. The only thing that bothers me is my sight. If I could see better I could walk all over the farm and it would do me good. I would not be without Pe-ru-na."

Yours truly,
Isaac Brock.

For a free book on catarrh, address The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

DEATHS OF A DAY

Mr. I. Barker Dies at Home of His Daughter Here.

For Years a Resident of Nashville—Other Deaths in Paducah.

Mr. I. Barker, the venerable father of Mrs. Samuel Stark, died at 7:15 o'clock last evening at the home of his daughter, 803 Madison street, from old age, after an illness of a week. He had made his home in Paducah for the past six years and was highly esteemed.

The deceased was 84 years old and was born in Germany. He came to this country early in life and located at Nashville, Tenn., where he was in business for many years and by his thrift and honesty built up a splendid business. He retired six years ago and came to Paducah to make his home with his daughter, and his last days were of peace, rest and happiness, an ending befitting a useful life.

He is survived by the following children: Mesdames Samuel and Henry Stark, of Paducah; A. Samuels, of Columbia, Tenn.; Joseph Blunt, of Nashville, Tenn.; and two sons, Messrs. H. M. Barker, of St. Louis, and Joseph Barker, of San Francisco, Cal.

The remains will tomorrow be shipped to Nashville, Tenn., for burial.

Mr. Barker was a member of the A. O. U. W., and the members will likely conduct services before the remains leave the city. Past Master James F. Crow will this afternoon make all necessary arrangements.

The funeral of the late William Hesselton took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his daughter on South Eleventh street, burial at Oak Grove.

Mr. Thomas Baker, of the First National bank, has received word of the death of Mr. Robert Baker, his brother, near Huntington, Tenn., from pneumonia. The deceased was 61 years old and a Confederate veteran. He leaves a son near Huntington, and a daughter in Texas. This

REFORM SCHOOL

FOR GRAVES COUNTY BOY WHO KILLED ANOTHER.

Deputy Sheriff Harris, of Mayfield, Graves county, passed through the city today at noon with Con Brooks, the 18-year old boy who was sent to the reform school for killing Novel Holmes.

The boy was tried for manslaughter and the jury remained out two days, being unable to agree. It finally came in with a verdict for two years in the penitentiary and this was changed to a reform school sentence.

A VERY UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9. Marriage on the limited term plan, as recognized in the northern part of Africa and parts of Turkey, was illustrated here in the marriage of Anastasius Bit Natolia and his wife to Justice I. W. Campbell, of St. Louis county.

The couple were married twenty-five years ago in Brussels, Belgium, but being natives of Oriental countries, they recognized the customs of their native lands and told Judge Campbell that, being well satisfied with each other, they had decided to try the dual life for another period of 25 years. The ceremony was performed in Campbell's courtroom at 3500 Olive street, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mueller, proprietors of the adjoining hotel that bears their name, acted as groomsman and bridesmaid respectively. After the ceremony a wedding feast was served in the dining room of the Mueller hotel. The beverage served was arrack, an Oriental drink. The more substantial part of the meal was cooked in Oriental style.

Mr. and Mrs. Natolia after the feast went to their home on 96th street, where they received throughout the day. The couple have only one child, a daughter, 12 years old, who was present when the renewal ceremony was performed.

"My wife and I think as much of each other today," said Natolia, "as when we were first married 25 years ago. If we did not we should not wish to enter upon another period of 25 years of companionship. I am certain we will feel just the same way 25 years hence, when we will again renew our vows."

Natolia was born in Sarance Province, Turkey. His wife is a native of Algeria, in the northern part of Africa. Natolia will depart tomorrow for New York, from where he will sail for Algeria to visit his wife's relatives, returning in the spring. After the ceremony today each presented the other with a silver ring, in accordance with the customs of their native countries.

FEATURES OF SUNDAY SERVICES

Accomplished Good Work.
Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church, has returned from Hinkleyville, Ballard county, where he held a two-weeks' revival and accomplished a great deal of good. Interest had almost disappeared in the congregation of the Christian church, but he reorganized the church and revived the Sunday school. He had sixteen professions of faith, and secured an subscription for a new Sunday school library.

Yesterday he stopped at La Center and was instrumental in effecting arrangements to move the Christian church building from its present location, two miles from La Center, to the lot donated the congregation in La Center, or else sell the present building and erect a new one. Rev. Pinkerton expects to return to La Center in a few days to further interest the people in the move.

TILL NOON

THE SIMPLE DISH THAT KEEPS ONE VIGOROUS AND WELL FED.

When the doctor takes his own medicine and the grocer eats the food he recommends some confidence comes to the observer.

A grocer of Oasden, Ind., had a practical experience with food worth anyone's attention.
He says: "Six years ago I became so weak from stomach and bowel trouble that I was finally compelled to give up all work in my store, and in fact all sorts of work, for about four years.

The last year I was confined to the bed nearly all of the time, and much of the time unable to retain food of any sort on my stomach. My bowels were badly constipated continually and I lost in weight from 165 pounds down to 88 pounds.

"When at the bottom of the ladder I changed treatment entirely and started in on Grape-Nuts and cream for nourishment. I used absolutely nothing but this for about three months I slowly improved until I got out of bed and began to move about.

"I have been improving regularly and now in the past two years have been working about fifteen hours a day in the store and never felt better in my life.

"During those two years I have never missed a breakfast of Grape-Nuts and cream, and often have it two meals a day, but the entire breakfast is always made of Grape-Nuts and cream alone.

"Since commencing the use of Grape-Nuts I have never used anything to stimulate the action of the bowels, a thing I had to do for years, but this food keeps me regular and in fine shape, and I am growing stronger and heavier every day.

"My customers, naturally, have been interested and I am compelled to answer a great many questions about Grape-Nuts.

"Some people would think that a simple dish of Grape-Nuts and cream would not carry one through to the noonday meal, but it will and in the most vigorous fashion."

ARM CUT

BY A FALL FROM A PORCH.

Mrs. Laura Ross, of 625 Flannoy avenue, fell from the porch last night early and on her right arm very badly falling on broken bite of bottle.

She tripped as she started to ascend the steps and in attempting to gain her balance missed the steps in falling. She struck on her arm and the broken bottle cut an artery or two in several places, also cut several ligaments in the arm.

City Physician Robert Rivers was summoned and dressed the injury. There is danger of blood poisoning, but it is hoped to prevent it.

SAME CITIES WILL COMPOSE IT NEXT YEAR.
Other Cities May Be Added, Making Eight-Club League.

Beyond doubt the Kentucky-Illinois-Tennessee league will be composed of the cities that have heretofore formed the circuit, with the possible addition of two, making it an eight-club league. The latter is very probable, but what new cities will be accepted is mere speculation.
At present the league is made up of Paducah, Henderson, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Cairo, Ill.; Clarksville, Tenn., and Vincennes, Ind. Most likely the new cities will be Owensboro, Ky., and Washington, Ind., should the next session of the league magnates decide on an eight-club league.
Bowling Green, Ky., is an applicant but the place is too small and Owensboro, with an experienced manager, would be a paying ball city. Originally Owensboro was a member of the "Kitty," but dissension arose among the stockholders and league baseball died there.
All talk of leaving Cairo out of the circuit is absurd because Cairo and Paducah have sustained the other league cities during the two seasons of its life.
Next month President Irving Thompson will call a meeting for January to wind up the business of the past season and decide on next season's circuit and elect officers.

Cardigan

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

Copyright, 1901, by ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

"Huh, Mr. Micky!" said Silver Heels. "It is upon me that you require to make you run the faster after Jackknife?"

This outrageous taunt ruffled me, and I seized the chalk and wrote high on the slate.

"Silver Heels in Mobek she toes in like ducks."

She caught up the buckskin to wipe out the taunt, jostling me till the ferret in my pocket jumped out and ran round and round the room.

I jostled her; then she gave me a blow and a quick shove, whereupon I stumbled, pulling her to the door to rub her face with chalk. She twisted and turned, kicking and striking, while I rubbed chalk into her skin till of a sudden she rolled up and bit me clean through the hand.

The blood began welling up, running into my palm and along the fingers to the floor. At that moment I turned the door of the nursery open, and I knew that Sir William was coming through the hall to the schoolroom.

From instinct I thrust my wounded hand into my breeches pocket.

"Don't tell!" whispered Silver Heels in a fright.

She sped across the floor to the open window and over the sill, dropping light as a cat on the grass below.

Sir William came quickly along the hall, and I had scarce time to step to the slate when he marched in.

Sir William had changed his clothing for the buckskin hunting shirt and breeches which he was accustomed to wear when angling. He approached the slate whereon my verses stood, white and unfinished, and at first his brows knitted, and he said, "Fudge, fudge, fudge?" Then of a sudden he laid down on the bench, clapping his hand to his head.

"Oh, Lord," said he, "if you are not born a scholar, 'twas the ink mark I could not read aright, and no blame to you, lad, no blame to you. Micky, say, shall we leave 'tween to go marching with his impediments and his tenth legion? Shall we bid the nymphs and dryads farewell forever, lad, and save our learning for Frederick Hamilton and a bowl of elder and the bitter nights of December?"

His meaning was dawning upon me slowly, for what with the pain of my hand and the dizziness I was perhaps more stupid than usual.

"No," said Sir William, with a thump of his fist on his knee, "the college which my Lord Dartmouth has endowed is a haven for those who seek it, not a prison for men to be driven to."

He paused. The blood was now stealing down my stocking toward my shoe. I turned the leg so he could not observe it.

"Come, lad," he said, brightening up; "learning lies not always between thimble leaves. I only wish that you bear yourself modestly and nobly through the world; that you keep faith with me; that your word once given shall never be withdrawn."

"This is the foundation. It includes courage. Further than that, I desire you, once a purpose formed and a course set, to steer fearlessly to the goal."

"I know you to be brave and honest. I know you to be a very Muhawk in the forest. I believe you to be more thoughtful and tender underneath that boy's thoughtless and cruel hide."

"As for learning, I can do no more for you than I have done and have offered to do. I want you, Micky. We Irish are fond of each other, and am an old man now—I am high sixty years. Michael—sixty years of battle. I would be glad of rest with those I love."

My heart was very soft now. I looked at Sir William with an affection I had never before understood.

"There is one last thing I wish to add," he said gravely, almost sadly. "Perhaps I may again refer to it, but I pray that it may not be necessary. It is this: If it ever comes to you to choose between his majesty our king and—your native land—while God forbid!—go to your closet and kneel down and stay there on your knees, hours, days—until you have learned your own heart. Then—then—God go with you, Michael Carignan. That is all. Where is that ferret? What? Running about unuzzled? Hey, Vix, Vix! Come here, little reptile!"

"I'll catch her, sir," said I, stumbling forward.

But as I laid my hand on Vix the floor rose and struck me, and there I lay sprawling and senseless, with the blood running over the floor, and Sir William, believing me bitten by the ferret, pounced the poor beast. He must have seen my hand, however, for, when a cup of cold water set me spluttering and blinking, I found my hand tied up and Sir William himself eyeing me strangely.

He asked me whether the ferret bit me, and I was tempted to say yes. Treachery was abhorrent to me. I hated Silver Heels, but could not be tray her, and it was easy to clap the blame on Vix. I tried to say Vix, but the lie stuck in my throat.

"I cannot tell you," I muttered.

"Then," said Sir William, with a look of relief, "I shall not force you, Michael. Only remember that you are a man now, a man of sixteen, and that I have today treated you as a man and shall continue. And remember that a man's first duty is to protect the weaker sex, and his second duty is to endure from them all taunts, caprices and torments without revenge. It is a hard lesson to learn, Micky, and only the true and gallant gentleman can ever learn it."

He smiled, then said: "I pray find our little Silver Heels and return to her the Jackknife, which was her wampum belt of faith in the honor of a gentleman."

And so he walked away, smoothing the fur of the red eyed ferret against his breast.

CHAPTER 11.

I HAD entered the schoolroom that morning in a lazy, sultry, defiant mood, heavy hearted, with a crowd of resentments against the discipline of those who had sent me into a hateful trap from the windows of which I could see the young, thrifty year quaffing spring sunshine. Now I was free to leave the accused trap forever, a man of discretion, responsible before men.

What a change had come to me, all in one brief May morning! As I stood there, resting my bandaged hand in the palm of the other, looking about me to realize the fortune which set my velvet tugging, a great tide of benevolent condescension for the others swept over me, a ripple of pity and good will for the hapless children whose benches lay in a row before me.

I knew my small head was all a swell with vain longing. I saw myself in a dappled coat and lace, fingering the hilt of a sword at my hip, saluted by the sentries and the militia. I saw myself riding with Sir William as his deputy.

Then, unbidden, the apparition of Mr. Butler rose into my vain dreaming, and I saw myself dogging Mr. Butler with a trail and knife loosened, on, out, through fathomless depths of forest and by the still deeps of shadowy lakes, fording the roaring tumble of rivers, swimming silent pools as otters swim, but tracking him, ever tracking Captain Butler by the scent of his reeking scalp.

Truly I panted life in cloying colors, and always, when I accomplished gallant deeds, there stood Silver Heels to observe me, and to marvel, and to stamp her little nose in vexation that I, the pride and envy of all men, applauded, courted, nay, worshipped—the playmate she had in her ally, lay morose, flouted, now stood so far beyond her.

Perhaps I would smile at her—yes, I certainly should smile at her—not with familiarity, but I would be magnumanimous; she should receive gifts, spoils from wars, and I would select a suitable husband for her from the officers of my household who adored me! No, I would not be hasty concerning a husband. That would be foolish, for Silver Heels must remain heart whole and fancy free to concentrate her cunning admiration upon me.

In a sort of ecstasy I paraded the schoolroom, the splendor of my vicious dishing eyes and ears, and it was not until he had called me thrice that I observed Mr. Butler standing within the doorway.

The unwelcome sight cleared my brain like a dash of spring water in the face.

"It is 1 o'clock," said Mr. Butler, "and time for your carving lesson. Sir William dines early," he said as I followed him through the dim hallway, past the nursery and downstairs. "If he has to wait your pleasure for his slice of roast you will wait his pleasure for the remainder of the day in the schoolroom."

"It is not true!" I said, stopping short in the lower hallway. "I am free of that ratty pit forever, and of the old ferret, too!" I added insolently.

"By your favor," said Mr. Butler, "may I ask whether your erudition is GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred and one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles 75c. For sale by Duffels, Kolb & Co.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and farther acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless anti-acids in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Imparting your bodily health that you leave school so early in life, Master Cardigan?

Suddenly all the hatred and contempt I had so long choked back burst out in language I now blush for. I called him a coward, a liar; I leaped abuse upon him; I dared him to meet me—any. I challenged him to face me with rifle or sword when and where he chose. And all the time he stood staring at me with his deadly laugh, which never reached his eyes.

"Measure me!" I said venomously. "I am as all as you, lacking on luck I am a man! This day Sir William freed me from that spider web you tenant, and now in heaven's name let us settle what score which every hour has added to since I first beheld you."

"And my honor?" he asked coolly. "What?" I stammered. "I ask you to maintain it with rifle or rapier; blood-seeds tarnished names?"

"Not your blood," he said, with a stealthy glance at the dining room door—"not the blood of a boy. That would rust my honor. Wait, Master Cardigan; wait a day."

"You will not meet me!" I blurted out, mortified.

"In a year, perhaps," he said absent ly, scarcely looking at me as he spoke.

Then from within the dining hall came Sir William's roar: "Hold of me! Am I to be kept here at twiddle thumbs for lack of a curfew?"

It was Sir William's pleasure that I learn to carve, and, in truth, I found it easy.

THE SHRINERS

WILL HAVE THEIR ANNUAL MEETING SOON.

As Usual a Delegation Will Go From Paducah.

The Ancient and Arable Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will hold their annual meeting on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening at Louisville.

The afternoon will be devoted to business and the evening to pleasure.

The entire lower floor of the Masonic Temple Theatre has been secured by the committee for the night performance of "A Girl From Dixie."

After the show a buffet luncheon will be served in the banquet hall on the fifth floor of the Masonic Temple building. An informal reception will then be held by the officers in the commandery room. Following the reception there will be a dance, which will close the entertainment.

The Ancient and Arable Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine has had a successful year. There are now 70 members, and degrees will be conferred on fifty new ones Thanksgiving afternoon.

As usual a delegation from Paducah will go to Louisville to attend, but it is not yet decided who or how many will go.

JO PARKER BACK

FORMER PADUCAHAN RETURNS TO KENTUCKY TO LIVE.

Jo A. Parker, the whilom Paducahan, who a few years ago printed the Kentucky Populist in a small upstairs room on Legal Row, has returned to Kentucky after the arduous work of the recent campaign.

Parker has been a conspicuous figure in the Populist circles. For four years he was chairman of the National Executive Committee of the People's party, which consists of five members. At the last Populist convention, however, he declined to stand for re-election. He was elected a member of the committee, and most of his time during the campaign was devoted to the interest of his party.

Parker is now the publisher of "Our Southern Country," a monthly publication printed in Louisville and devoted to the interests of the Southland. He is also largely interested in the Journal of Labor and is president of the Southwestern Land and Immigration Company of St. Louis.

He is back in Kentucky to stay until the next campaign.

UNCLE SAM BURNS

SECOND OF THE TRIO OF SUCCESSIVE RIVER DISASTERS.

The steamer Uncle Sam, formerly the Jacob Richtman, was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday night at Quincy, Ill. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The boat was a small towing steamer, owned by Adams Brothers, and valued at $10,000. They carried partial insurance on her. She was well known in these waters, having towed ties before the river became so low that the traffic had to be abandoned.

CONSTITUTION.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herberine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Branson, Mo., writes Feb. 12, 1902: "Having tried Herberine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 30c bottle. Sold by Duffels, Kolb & Co.

CAUSED BY FLUE.

This morning at 8 o'clock the No. 3 fire department, of Tenth and Clay streets, was called to 1018 North Tenth street to extinguish a blaze in the residence of Rosa Fuqua, colored.

The fire was about the size in the roof and was speedily extinguished before it had spread. The damage will amount to not more than $25.

BADLY HURT

MR. J. R. MCCLAIN'S BUGGY STRUCK BY RUNAWAY HORSE.

Mr. J. R. McClain, the well known collector, has a badly injured left hand, and his wife had a narrow escape from serious injury last night about 8:30 o'clock near Fifth and Broadway, when a runaway horse ran into his buggy into which his wife had just stepped.

Mr. and Mrs. McClain were preparing to get into the buggy and Mrs. McClain had stepped in. Her husband was standing at the horse's head with the hitch rein in his hand. He saw the runaway horse coming but before he could snatch his wife out of the buggy the collision occurred.

Mr. McClain's buggy was turned over, and as it did, Mrs. McClain jumped out. Mr. McClain caught at the bridle of his horse and attempted to hold him. His left hand was injured by his hold on the rein. The hose was taken off the hand and Mr. McClain will be disabled for several days.

His wife escaped without a bruise but was badly frightened. The buggy was badly wrecked and the damage to it will amount to about $25.

Mr. McClain stated this morning that he did not know whose horse ran into him. The horse had run the entire distance from First and Broadway, it is said. It proceeded out Fifth street after striking the McClain buggy.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

HOLDING REMAINS.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 19.—Coroner Saffold received another telegram from relatives of W. J. Montgomery, the man killed at the depot Monday night. The telegram was dated at Atlanta, Ga., and said hold remains until today. It is thought they are on the way to get remains.

ON THE TRAWLER.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 19.—John Hawser, son of Mrs. Alice Hawser, of this place, left home four years ago, and the latest that has been heard from him was that he was boatswain on the Gull, one of the trawlers fired upon recently by the Russian Baltic fleet in the North Sea. Papers sent home by him show that the young man distinguished himself by rescuing the dead and dying from a sinking vessel.

INSURANCE MEN ELEC.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 19.—The Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Fire Underwriters elected C. M. Benjamin, of Louisville, president and Wm. Sowards, of Cincinnati, vice-president. The following were chosen to compose the executive committee for the ensuing year: A. F. Weitzel, F. G. Snyder, and W. M. Morrison, Louisville; J. C. Luca and J. M. Pickett, Nashville; W. P. Benton, Indianapolis; G. A. Curry, Harrodsburg, Ky. The executive committee, after approving the annual report of Secretary Claude P. Snyder, of Louisville, re-elected him secretary. The board decided not to put into effect the 25-cent increase proposed for Tennessee on account of the extraordinary losses of the past year.

KILLING IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 19.—On Marlow Johnson's farm, near Hopkinsville, Bud Word shot and instantly killed Tom Carter, a colored laborer. Carter's father was in a cornfield when the tragedy occurred, but was working some distance away and only heard the report of the weapon, and saw his son fall. Word claimed he was in a playful scuffle with Carter, and that the shooting was an accident.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Smithland, Ky., Nov. 19.—Harry Coomer, a citizen of the Grand Rivers neighborhood, was arrested on Seven Mile Island, in Lyon county, by Deputy Sheriff George M. Wilson, of this county, and brought to Smithland and landed in jail. The charge against him is rape, said to have been committed on the person of Mattie Snow, the 16-year old daughter of John Snow, a farmer living a few miles in the country below here. The offense is said to have been committed last September. The examining trial is set for today. Coomer is about 50 years old and is a well known citizen of this county.

A LIVINGSTON FAIR.

Smithland, Ky., Nov. 19.—There is talk of the organization of a County Fair company, for the purpose of organizing, promoting and perfecting a fair for the benefit of Livingston county and especially the farmers of the county.

MURRAY MAN DIES.

Murray, Ky., Nov. 19.—Mr. W. P. Albritton of Calloway, democratic nominee of that county for representative, died yesterday of paralysis of the bowels. Mr. Albritton took sick on the night of the election. One operation was performed and it was thought he was on the road to recovery when he suddenly expired. He was about 50 years old.

BETTER NOW, THANK YOU.

Mrs. Fields, of Hickory Grove, came up to the city Thursday and at one sitting had nineteen teeth pulled from the effects of which she has suffered very much, but is now feeling better and will soon be well again. This shows her to be a brave woman.—Mayfield Messenger.

FATALLY HURT.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 19.—James Anderson, of near Buiah, Hickman county, received a fractured skull by being thrown from a horse yesterday. Mr. Anderson was sitting on his horse talking when some one threw up his hands to attract the attention of another person. This frightened the horse and it threw Mr. Anderson. Three doctors give no encouragement of his recovery. The wounded man is 29 years of age, and a widower.

DEATH AT CROFTON.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 19.—W. E. McChord, a prominent physician of North Christian, died at his home, near Crofton, after an illness of a week of intestinal obstruction. He was 67 years old and had practiced medicine for forty years.

DEATHS IN TRIGG COUNTY.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 19.—Trigg county has lost three of its most prominent citizens this week. They are Mr. Riley Wilson, of Linton, aged 77 years, death caused by paralysis; D. Matt Adams, aged 41, died of fever, four miles north of here, and Elijah P. Mason, 56 years old, who died of pneumonia at his home four miles east of town.

DEATH IN GRAVES.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 19.—Mr. W. M. Hill, aged 73 years, living near Wingo, died from the effects of a paralytic stroke received Tuesday. Mr. Hill leaves four boys and three girls.

DEATH IN BALLARD.

Madans, Ky., Nov. 19.—Mrs. Ella Melton, wife of W. D. Melton, died of blood poisoning. Mrs. Melton's maiden name was Floyd and she was born in Henderson county, Kentucky, October 5, 1860. The remains were interred in New Liberty cemetery, McCracken county. She leaves five boys and three girls.

PROCEEDED ON HER WAY.

Mrs. Belle Brown left Paducah at noon Wednesday on the northbound passenger train for St. Louis. She got on at Union station and before the train reached Sixth street station she had given birth to a baby boy. The trainmen notified the company physician and held the train until he reached it and then came on to this city where she was taken to the State hotel until sufficiently recovered to resume her journey.—Metropolis Journal-Republican.

Mr. W. T. Dinson, special agent of the Louisville division of the I. C., is in the city today on business.

ELOPED TODAY

PADUCAH MAN AND LOUISVILLE GIRL WED.

Mr. Henry Wilson, known also as Henry Waggoner, the well known young monder, of the local I. C. shop, and Miss Mattie Johnson of Louisville, who is visiting relatives on Clark street near Tenth, eloped to Metropolis this morning in a buggy to marry.

Mr. Wilson formerly worked at the Jackson foundry company but of late has been an attaché of the I. C. shops. The young lady has been visiting here several weeks and has become popular among her acquaintances.

They were accompanied to Metropolis by Mr. Alex. McCarty and Miss Jessie Addington. The party secured a four seated rig and drove to the ferry landing and will cross over and be married this afternoon, returning tonight.

The marriage was not favored by the parents of the young lady on account of her youth and the elopement was arranged to outwit her relatives.

FATAL INJURIES

YOUNG MAN HURT BY A RUNAWAY.

Dr. P. H. Stewart has returned from Smithland, where he went to attend a funeral and reports a very serious injury to Mr. Newton Hodge, a young man of the Dycenburgh neighborhood.

The young man was returning from church Wednesday night when his horse ran away and threw him out. His skull was fractured, his nose broken and one eye knocked completely out of the socket. His injuries are very serious and the physicians think he may not recover. At last reports he was not any better and the doctors have little hope of his recovery.

Mr. Paul McGinty leaves Monday for St. Louis and from there goes to Grand Haven, Mich., to superintend government building work.

PROMINENT MAN HERE.

Mr. L. P. Parker, proprietor of the Gayoso hotel at Memphis and the Halliday House at Cairo, was in the city today with the Cairo waterways delegation, a guest at the Palmer house.

He is a great friend of Hon. Charles Reed, proprietor of the Palmer house.
